More about Charlotte's Dream CBD

Charlotte's Dream CBD shows that CBD can taste good too. These feminised cannabis seeds from Growers Choice cross Charlotte's Web with Blue Dream CBD and add up to 18-22 % CBD with very low THC. If you want to buy a pleasant CBD strain, it is a solid bet.

As it contains so little THC, it does not produce a pronounced psychoactive effect. The experience is described as mild and pleasant, which is why it is often chosen for a more relaxed experience. Everyone reacts differently, so it’s best to try it at your own pace.

Appearance of the Flower. Fragrant flowers with a sweet scent whilst growing, which, when consumed, transforms into a blend of sweetness and freshness. The flavour is distinctly fruity, more reminiscent of an exotic variety than of hemp.

Plant morphology. A medium-sized plant with sativa genetics, growing to around 100–130 cm indoors and up to 140–170 cm outdoors. The flowering period is around 9 weeks and the plant is easy to grow.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the ideal climate for growing Charlotte's Dream CBD?
It adapts to warm and cold climates, both indoors and outdoors. A stable temperature supports good flower development.

Which training techniques work best with Charlotte's Dream CBD?
It accepts LST and topping to spread the light. As it has sativa heritage, open up the canopy early and stop it gaining too much height.

What sort of fertiliser does Charlotte's Dream CBD need?
It isn't very demanding. Balanced nutrition, with phosphorus and potassium during flowering, is enough. Avoid excess salts.

What are the ideal watering and humidity conditions for Charlotte's Dream CBD?
Water regularly without waterlogging and keep humidity moderate. Proper ventilation reduces the risk of fungus during flowering.

Does the Charlotte's Dream CBD plant need pruning?
Pruning can be light. Remove lower leaves and parts without light to concentrate the energy on the main flowers.
